LiveGood Skin Care Pack: Routine Order, Sunscreen & Common Questions

LiveGood: Skin & Beauty · https://coachluke.com/docs/livegood-skin-care-pack-routine-order-sunscreen-common-questions/

Quick reference for the LiveGood Skin Care Pack. The full review covers all five products, their key ingredients and the pricing in depth.

What is in the pack?

All five LiveGood facial products: BioCleanse Facial Cleanser, Herbal Radiance Enriched Toner, Ageless Renewal serum, Instant Youth and VitaGlow Hydrating Moisturizer. LiveGood does not list bottle sizes on the pack page.

In what order do I use it?

LiveGood's order is cleanser, toner, Ageless Renewal, Instant Youth, then VitaGlow, morning and night. A simpler start works well: cleanser, serum and moisturizer daily, the toner a few evenings a week, and Instant Youth only when you want its temporary smoothing effect.

Does it include sunscreen?

No. None of the five products contains SPF, so finish your morning routine with your own broad-spectrum sunscreen, SPF 30 or higher. That matters here because the toner and Ageless Renewal contain exfoliating acids and VitaGlow contains babchi seed extract.

Is Instant Youth's effect permanent?

No. LiveGood says it helps temporarily tighten and smooth the appearance of fine lines within minutes. The effect comes from a film on the skin and fades when you wash your face.

What does it cost?

Members pay $56.95 on Subscribe and Save or $59.95 one time; retail is $99.95. Bought one at a time, the five products come to $67.20, $70.75 and $156.75 at those same price levels.

Who should patch test or check with a doctor first?

Patch test each product on your inner arm first. Instant Youth contains hydrolyzed wheat protein, BioCleanse contains salicylic acid (check with your doctor if you are allergic to aspirin), and if you are pregnant or nursing, ask your doctor before using VitaGlow. BioCleanse carries no vegan badge.

How long until I notice anything?

Softness and comfort often show within days; the look of consistently cared-for skin takes several weeks. Results vary. LiveGood shows no member reviews for the pack yet.

What if it doesn't work for me?

Every order carries LiveGood's 90-day money-back guarantee. See the guarantee explained for how it works.
